Southern Pacific to Bring Court Gets Trophy Cup by Towns in Closer Touch With El Paso.

Farmington, N. M., Feb. 25 .- The entire San Juan country is thoroughly aroused over the flattering prospects of the Southern Pacific railroad extension from the south to Farmington and on to Durango. Railroad talk and concentrated activity absorbs the attention of everybody, especially the serious minded business men and larger property owners. Durango, Aztec and Farmington are in thorough cooperation with a dtermination to comply with all of the company's requirements. A mass meeting was held in Durango recently, which was packed with delegations from Farmington, Aztec and other points. In turn the opera house in Farmington was overrun at a meeting held for the same purpose. Durango sent 100 delegates on a special train with a brass band. Aztec turned out 60 strong, also bringing a brass band. The third rally was held at Aztec, atended by more than 300 delegates. Farmington assessment of about $25,-000 has been raised, and practically all requirements at other points complied with, and from trustworthy sources comes the information that dirt will be broken in a few weeks and the line completed to Farmington in short or-

Injunction Locates Cup.

The mandatory injunction recently issued by judge Pope, of the district court, against E. J. Femster, of Artesia, N. M., ordering him to deliver the Hearst trophy cup to the clerk of the said court in this city, had a telling effect in establishing its whereabouts. The cup was awarded to Eddy county for having the finest county exhibit at the 16th annual Irrigation congress. held at Albuquerque. The exhibit was arranged by the products supplied by Carlsbad, Artesia and Hope, and by mutual agreement the cup was to have a regular linerary, being exhibited for a period of three months at each place. It disappeared from Artesia and the injunction followed. Its custodianship will be determined at the next term of the district court, which will be held in this city, April 3.

Consider the Quality Before the Price

When buying groceries and meats you should always see that the quality is first considered. Make price a secondary thing and it will be cheaper in the end. Your health will not always last if you eat the inferior grades of articles. By eating good meats and groceries you will avoid many a doctor's bill and, at the same time, enjoy what you eat. When you go to select groceries and meats remember that there is one kind that you can always rely upon as being the best, freshest and choicest-that's the Nations' kind.
